

Esther Bible Study

(14 July 2021)

Group Discussion: Please discuss:

How can we pastorally help Christians who feel or think that God is absent? Does your answer change if you are helping non-Christian people?

People, including Christians, often regard life and events with fatalism. "It was meant to be." "My number has come up." "It is my lucky day." What is the difference between fatalism and belief in a sovereign God? How should this difference affect us practically?

How does Esther 1-4 challenge our views on power and beauty?
